Dotty Dimple Out West Sophie May 2013-05-19 "Sophie May's excellent pen has perhaps never written anything more pleasing to children, especially little girls, than Dotty Dimple." -'Herald of Gospel LibertyDotty Dimple Out West was first published in 1868. It is the third book in the "Dotty Dimple" series. It is dedicated to "Dotty Dimple's little friends, Gussie Tappan and Sarah Longley". The story begins in October and has Dotty traveling "out west" (to Indiana) to visit the Cliffords. In chapter 12, the Indiana town is identified as Quinn. A current map does not list this town today. The story tells about her journey there, and about her adventures in Indiana, ending just before they start for home."Dotty's trip was jolly. In the cars where she saw so many people that she thought there'd be nobody left in any of the houses, she offers to hold someone's baby, and when it begins to cry she stuffs pop-corn into its mouth, nearly choking it to death. Afterwards, in pulling a man's hair, she is horrified to see his wig come off, and gasps out 'O dear, dear, dear, I didn't know your hair was so tender.' Altogether, she is the cunningest chick that ever lived." -Oxford Press(cover image courtesy of Cris Watk)
